day, much before the start of the yatra. Shrine board officials said the yatra began at 6 am from both the routes leading to the hilltop shrine after a temporary suspension necessitated by inclement weather conditions and essential maintenance of the track leading to the shrine.

However, the shrine board used public address system to announce the immediate suspension of the yatra around 5.30 pm after dark clouds covered the Trikuta hills with weather-man forecasting heavy rains.

"Over 2,500 pilgrims joined the yatra during the day and many of them have already paid their obeisance at the shrine. The helicopter service remained suspended, but the battery car functioned normally," an official said.

He said the shrine board will review the situation later tonight and accordingly a decision will be taken about allowing the pilgrims on the track for the yatra on Thursday. Earlier, the shrine board advised the pilgrims to carry valid identification, follow designated pathways and cooperate with on-ground staff. Radio Frequency Identity Card (RFID)-based tracking remains mandatory for transparency and traceability.

The shrine board expressed its gratitude to all devotees for their patience and understanding during the temporary suspension.

"The resumption of the Yatra marks a reaffirmation of our collective faith and resilience and the board remains committed to upholding the sanctity, safety and dignity of this revered pilgrimage," an official said.

"We are extremely happy that the yatra has resumed. We reached the base camp from Pune two days ago and it was a difficult wait but we were sure that we are going to have a 'darshan' before returning to our home town," said a woman pilgrim, part of a group from Maharashtra.

The pilgrims termed the resumption of the yatra as a very special day and said "visiting the shrine is a blessing and we thank the officials for making this possible." The shrine board urged all pilgrims to strictly follow safety guidelines and remain updated through official communication channels.

With the path now declared safe, the pilgrimage is expected to see a large number of devotees in the coming days, especially during the upcoming Navratri scheduled to start from September 22 till October 1.

The pilgrimage was suspended on August 26, hours before a major landslide hit the route leading to the shrine that resulted in the death of 34 pilgrims and injuries to 20 others.

The UAE team has, however, arrived at the stadium and will go through to the Super Four stage if the match is not played. According to the PCB, the 69-year Pycroft, who is a former Zimbabwe cricketer, had told its national captain Salman Ali Agha to refrain from shaking hands with his Indian counterpart Suryakumar Yadav.

The Pakistani team management also alleged that Pycroft did not allow the customary exchange of team-sheets between the two captains.

"This misconduct violates Article 2 of the ICC Code of Conduct for Match Officials, which specifically makes it an offence for the Match Referee to conduct himself in a manner, which is contrary to the spirit of game and violates the MCC Laws," the PCB alleged in its first letter of complaint to the ICC.

"Given the gravity, political nature/background, and far-reaching consequences and repercussions, the misconduct has also caused disrepute to the game," it had stated. The ICC rejected these accusations and maintained the same position even when a second letter was sent by the PCB.

According to sources in the ICC and the Asian Cricket Council (ACC), Pycroft had no role in the fiasco and "in fact saved Pakistan from being blind-sided by informing them about what the Indians were planning to do."

Operation Sindoor Shattered JeM: Tarun Chugh

Afridi's Praise Exposes Rahul Gandhi as Pakistan's Blue-Eyed Boy

Jammu, 17 September 2025:

BJP National General Secretary Tarun Chugh said that the belated admission by Jaish-e-Mohammad about the devastating impact of Operation Sindoor is the strongest proof of India's decisive counter-terror capability. "In May 2025, our brave armed forces demolished Jaish's Bahawalpur headquarters, eliminated over a hundred dreaded terrorists including Kandahar hijackers, and struck at the very roots of Masood Azhar's empire. Today, even Jaish commanders are on record acknowledging their losses," Chugh said. He hit out sharply at the Congress alliance and its leader Rahul Gandhi, reminding how they questioned the success of Operation Sindoor just as they once cast aspersions on the Surgical Strikes and Balakot Airstrikes. "This is a consistent pattern—our forces write history with blood and courage, and Rahul Gandhi tries to erase it with doubt and dishonor. The nation will never forgive such betrayal," Chugh said.

From the surgical strikes of 2016 to the Balakot airstrikes in 2019, and now Operation Sindoor in 2025, India's armed forces have written a saga of unmatched bravery. Each time, while the world acknowledged India's right to defend itself, Congress leaders tried to plant seeds of doubt and spoke in the very language that Pakistan used to discredit our victories. "This duplicity is not just politics—it is an insult to every soldier who risks his life for the tricolour," Chugh said, adding that history will remember these operations as milestones of India's rise, while it will remember Rahul Gandhi's comments as footnotes of shame. Chugh also drew attention to Pakistan's former cricketer Shahid Afridi's recent praise of Rahul Gandhi. "It is shameful that the same Afridi who spits venom on Kashmir is now applauding Rahul Gandhi. This proves Rahul is Pakistan's blue-eyed boy, celebrated by its army and media. He echoes their script and dances to their tune, even in times when India needs unity against terror," he added. Calling out former Pakistani cricketer Mohammad Yousuf's derogatory and condemnable remarks against India's cricket captain Suryakumar Yadav, Chugh questioned why Rahul Gandhi and his ally from Bihar, Tejashwi Yadav, have not objected to such insults. "Their silence is telling. It shows that Rahul Gandhi and his INDI alliance partners like Tejashwi are not just indifferent but virtually complicit with Pakistani voices. When Pakistan abuses India, they look the other way, and when Pakistan praises Rahul Gandhi, they beam with pride. This duplicity is unacceptable," Chugh said.

J&K Youth Congress Observes National Unemployment Day in Jammu to Mark PM Modi's Birth Anniversary

"Government only favours Adanis, ignores unemployed youth": Sawhney

Jammu, Sept 17:

The J&K Pradesh Youth Congress (JKPYC) on Wednesday observed National Unemployment Day in Jammu under its nationwide campaign "Naukri Chor, Gaddi Chhod", to mark the birth anniversary of Prime Minister Narendra Modi. The protest was led by JKPYC General Secretary Anirudh Sawhney. Even national and international medalists from martial arts actively joined the protest, standing shoulder to shoulder with Youth Congress activists to fight against joblessness. In a symbolic demonstration highlighting the rising joblessness, Youth Congress activists carried a cart and sold pakoras on the roadside, mocking the government's repeated failure to provide adequate employment opportunities to the youth despite their qualifications. The protestors raised slogans against the Central government, alleging betrayal of young aspirants who continue to face an uncertain future. The demonstration saw the participation of State General Secretary Anirudh Sawhney along with State Vice President Adv. Ranjodh Singh, General Secretary Swam Singh Jaral, Secretary Anmol Kohli, Mehul Abrol (President Jammu East), and Youth Congress leaders Navjot Singh, Amir Hussain Malik, Adv. Haris Ali, Showkat Hussain Malik, Mouluk Sharma, Mohamad Iqbal, Mohamad Salim, Vansh Gupta, Aryan Singh Charak, Aman Ranas, Toshak Sharma, Hanan

Younis, Jibran, Minhaj Bashir, and Haseeb Malik. Speaking on the occasion, State General Secretary P.Y.C. Anirudh Sawhney strongly criticized the Modi government, saying that over three lakh young people in J&K alone have registered themselves as unemployed this year, yet the government shows no concern. Prime Minister Modi is unworried about the struggles of youth because he has secured his position through vote chori, and therefore feels no accountability for naukri chori. That is why Youth Congress launched the Naukri Chor, Gaddi Chhod campaign—to highlight the duvidha and suffering of our youth. Sawhney further added that this government is here only to enjoy power and favour their friends such as the Adanis, instead of working for the people. The power they hold has come through unfair means, and the consequences are being borne by ordinary citizens, especially the young generation who are left with no opportunities. Our protest is a call to remind the ruling dispensation that the patience of the youth is running out, and they will not remain silent against this injustice.

Work efficiently on ground instead of shifting blame to centre; BJP to Omar Abdullah

'Markaz Ki Chaal' narrative does not work anymore

Jammu, 17 September 2025: The National Conference and its leader Omar Abdullah are once again playing their oldest political trick-blaming New Delhi to cover their own failures. This "Centre Ki Chaal" narrative has been NC's shield since 1947, a tool to divert public resentment whenever their misrule is exposed. Today, the same tired drama is being staged again. This was stated by Union Minister, J&K and spokesperson of BJP JK-UT Giridhari Lal Raina in Jammu today. Addressing a press conference along with Advocate Purvima Sharma - spokesperson BJP JK-UT, he said that the Jammu-Srinagar National Highway crisis is a telling example. While fruit growers and trucks lost crores and ordinary citizens remained stranded in misery, Omar Abdullah's government stood paralyzed. Chief Minister or his colleagues did not bother to visit hot spots to understand ground reality. When questioned, the Chief Minister first claimed he had no authority yet he continues to cling to power without shame or accountability. And when anger mounted, he attempted to shift the blame to Delhi, hoping the people would once again be misled. GI Raina added. Asserting that the people of Jammu and Kashmir are not blind and can't be misled again and again, GI Raina said that people appreciate efforts of NHAI making highway operational against all odds. They have seen with their own eyes how NHAI teams, under the direct guidance of Union Minister Shri Nitin Gadkari, worked tirelessly round the clock in hostile weather and treacherous conditions. Over a dozen excavators and 50 earthmovers were pressed into service, a two-lane diversion was built, and traffic was restored. This is real action, not hollow rhetoric. In contrast, Omar Abdullah restricted himself to social media statements and hollow political posturing. He did not even have the courage to visit the affected areas, where people continue to suffer. His claim that "if the highway was under him, he would have opened it" has only exposed his hypocrisy. Citizens are rightly asking: if you cannot even clear the mud and debris on roads under your own UT government, how can you claim you would have restored a national highway, he asked?

PRIME MINISTER- NARENDER MODI- WORLD COUNTRIES ALSO EXPRESS FAITH IN HIS GUIDANCE.

It has been wisely said that some are born great, some achieve greatness and greatness is thrust upon someone-very rarely. Many a times we have heard the example of Abraham Lincoln- the late President of America. About him it has been said- 'From Log Cabin to White House' sums up the career of Abraham Lincoln. His greatest achievement has been to end the 'most cruel' slavery system. It seems to be unbelievable but it had been a hard reality of those periods when in America, the slaves were kept in chains like animals. As Prime Minister Sh. Narendra Modi turned 75 on 17th September' 2025, wishes poured in from several leaders, both from the Centre and the Opposition. Many of them heaped praise on the Prime Minister's 'extra-ordinary leadership.'

Many others wished him good health. On the 75th birthday of our respected Prime Minister of India- Shri Narendra Modi- the whole country, is visibly greeting him enthusiastically for ending the slavery of 'old and dying' bent of mind and filling the same with new hopes, practices and means and methods to lead a progressive, reformative and peaceful life. Sh. Narendra Damodardas Modi is an Indian politician who has served as the Prime Minister of India since 2014. Modi was the Chief Minister of Gujarat from 2001-2014 and as the member of Parliament for Varanasi. He is the longest serving Prime Minister outside the Indian National Congress.

President of India- Murmu said that Prime Minister- Sh. Narendra Modi had 'instilled a culture of achieving great goals' in the country. Murmu said in a tweet, "By exemplifying the pinnacle of hard work through your extraordinary leadership you have instilled a culture of achieving great goals in the country. Today, the global community is also expressing its faith in your guidance. I pray to God that you remain forever healthy and joyful and with your unique leadership, lead the nation to new heights of progress," Union Home Minister of India- Sh. Amit Shah hailed Sh. Narendra Modi as a 'symbol of sacrifice and dedication.' Congress leaders Rahul Gandhi has also extended, birthday greetings, wishing the Prime Minister good health. He has been termed as the pioneer of world politics and diplomacy. Many others praise him as the architect of nation-building. It shall not be exaggerated to say that he is the creator of a new era. He is the leader of the masses - the one who envisioned the sacred Gram Sabha and the Tirtha Gram Sabha and made it a reality as the Chief Minister of Gujarat. He is a patriot to the backbone and many have described him as the ultimate patriot. His policies, programs and their implementation for the welfare of the society- the people of India make him the protector and flag-bearer of the country. Modi, in practice, thoughts, deeds and actions have proved that he has love and respect for every and all the religions. Like many other followers of their respective faiths- Mr. Modi is a firm believer and follower of his religion- Aryavrat Vedic Sanatan civilization and culture. He has been described as the most successful, the selfless, the ascetic, and a true karma yogi. Mr. Modi has been described as the one with a vibrant and possessing multi-dimensional talent.

Modi turns 75: A life devoted to nation with unwavering resolve

RAHUL KAUSHIK

As Narendra Modi turns 75, the nation reflects on a journey from Vadnagar's railway platform to the Prime Minister's Office — a life defined by discipline, devotion, and a nation-first vision that continues to shape India's destiny with resolve, reform, and resilience.

As Prime Minister Narendra Modi turns 75, it is not just a personal milestone, it is a moment for the nation to reflect on a life devoted entirely to India. From the dusty lanes of Vadnagar to the corridors of power in New Delhi, Modi's journey isn't just inspiring, it's a living example of what happens when discipline, dedication, and a relentless nation-first attitude come together.

Narendra Modi's life is proof that destiny bends to the will of those who are unafraid to walk alone, especially when that walk is in service of the nation. Born in 1950 into a humble family in Vadnagar, Gujarat, Modi didn't grow up with comfort or connections. He sold tea with his father at a railway station. But somewhere between those steam engines and station benches, a fire was lit. It was the fire of purpose. He wasn't chasing a career. He was chasing a calling. And early in life, he chose that calling with clarity. He gave up a conventional path, remained unmarried, and committed himself to Bharat Mata. No safety nets. No backup plans. Just total surrender to a larger cause.

That cause took a definite shape when he joined the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh, where he began his journey as a swayamsevak. In a world full of people seeking spotlight, Modi chose the discipline of anonymity. Doing RSS work, attending shakhas, cycling through villages, working for hours without rest, and sleeping little, he immersed himself in the quiet, rigorous training that would shape him for decades to come. There, under guidance of senior RSS leaders like Laxmanrao Inamdar and Madhukar Rao Bhagwat, his organisational potential increased exponentially and he became a pracharak. He travelled first across Gujarat and then across India not to build his name, but to build an organisation, an ideology, and a nation.

When he moved to the BJP as a full-time karyakarta, he brought with him the same tireless energy. He played key roles in building the party in Gujarat and beyond. He wasn't a man of speeches, but a man of structure. Strengthening boots, nurturing cadres, connecting with the last worker in the chain. His journey from the margins to the heart of power was not meteoric. It was methodical. Earned through decades of groundwork and never cutting corners.

In 2001, when fate thrust him into the Chief

Minister's chair in Gujarat, few in the state outside Sangh Parivar knew his name. But that changed quickly. He redefined governance by doing the one thing most politicians shy away from — setting clear benchmarks. Power reached villages. Roads connected interiors. Girls returned to school. Industries were welcomed, not harassed. And bureaucracy was expected to perform, not delay. Gujarat became a story not just of development, but of decisive leadership. People saw a CM who didn't just inaugurate buildings but monitored power pipelines as well. A leader who didn't just do politics, but delivered performance. By 2014, after a decade of scams, drift, and cynical politics under the UPA, India was gasping for direction. Modi didn't just win that election, he changed its tone. His campaign wasn't about caste equations or coalitions. It was about aspiration. About restoring dignity to a people who had been told to settle for less. For the first time, a generation that had grown up watching India being mocked on global platforms saw a leader who spoke with spine. Who didn't stammer when he spoke of India's pride. Who didn't whisper reforms but shouted vision.

Since becoming Prime Minister, Narendra Modi has led India with one unshakable principle — Nation First. He hasn't built a government. He's built a mission. The JAM trinity (Jan Dhan, Aadhaar, Mobile) didn't just revolutionise digital access, it has actually restructured the delivery of benefits with dignity. Ayushman Bharat became the world's largest healthcare programme. PM Kisan put money directly in farmers' hands. Ujjwala Yojana freed women from smoke-filled kitchens. Swachh Bharat made sanitation a national priority. Mudra Yojana supported small entrepreneurs who never had access to banks before. Every reform wasn't just Ram Janmahaboomi Mandir, a centuries-old civilisational wound, is finally being healed under his leadership. His government brought the Uniform Civil Code into real conversation, started correcting the legal imbalances of the Waqf Board and Muslim personal law, and implemented the New Education Policy to align learning with future needs and Indian values.

Even after a decade in office, Narendra Modi shows no signs of fatigue. He still works tirelessly, taking reviews of projects himself. He travels across the country non-stop, listening intently, and keeps refining his vision. He doesn't rely on power brokers or old loyalties, he trusts performance. And while critics raise the usual alarms, what they fail to understand is this: Modi's connect with the people is not built on propaganda. It is built on delivery. On keeping promises. On speaking plainly and acting decisively.

At 75, Modi isn't just India's most popular leader. He's a symbol of what's possible when one man's commitment to his country becomes absolute. He didn't inherit power. He earned it. He didn't build walls around him. He built bridges to the masses. He hasn't played politics for its own sake. He's used it as a tool to awaken India's potential. And in doing so, he has become not just a Prime Minister, but a force that will shape India's story for generations.

Child-custody case: Judicial system in India, UK taken for ride by mother, says SC

NEW DELHI, SEPT 17

The judicial system in India and the UK was taken for a ride by a woman for reasons best known to her, the Supreme Court has observed, while directing that the custody of her minor son be handed over to his father.

Deprecating the woman's conduct, a bench of Justices J K Maheshwari and Vijay Eshnoi said the case reflected a deep-rooted conflict between the woman and her husband, arising from their divergent intentions regarding staying together and raising their children in India.

It said this discord had not only strained their marital relationship but also adversely impacted their two children, one of whom is staying with the mother in the United Kingdom. The top court said the prolonged discord of ties between the couple, who got married in November 2010, led to further dispute on visitation over their two children.

"This is not merely a clash of egos, but prima facie, reflects a concerning mindset that may ultimately come at the cost of the welfare of the minor children," it observed.

The bench said the circumstances compel it to focus on how best the welfare and interests of the children can be safeguarded.

Referring to the woman's conduct, the bench said while leaving her son in India, it was her primary duty to inform the father, which she did not discharge.

It said it was also her duty to disclose to the high court of the UK, where the man had moved an application, that the boy was not with her there.

"It is to be noted that, due to such conduct, the father was deprived of having virtual meetings with Master K (the boy) despite orders from the UK High Court and ultimately, he had to file the habeas corpus petition (before the Punjab and Haryana High Court) when the suspicion brewed," the bench pointed out. It said it appeared that the woman never intended her son to meet his father and to say the least, to honour the court orders.

"The judicial system in India as well as the UK had been taken for a ride by the mother for reasons known best to her," it said.

The man told the apex court that his wife left India for the UK in May 2021 with both the children, without informing him or taking his consent. Later, he found out that his minor son was in India with his parents-in-law.

He then approached the Punjab and Haryana High Court, raising the issue of alleged illegal custody of his children.

In its verdict delivered on September 16, the apex court noted that the woman had obtained a divorce from a family court in London, while the man secured a divorce from a family court in Jind.

"In essence, while both parties sought divorce, they refuse to accept the decrees granted by courts in different jurisdictions and continue to challenge them, which they are legally entitled to do. Attempts at mediation have failed," it noted.

The bench said the high court was justified in granting the boy's interim custody to his father. It directed that the custody of the boy be handed over to the man by September 30.

"After handing over the custody of Master K, the father or the mother, as the case may be, shall file appropriate proceedings and continue to challenge them, which they are legally entitled to do. Attempts at mediation have failed," it noted.

The bench directed that the mother or sibling of the boy shall have the right to audio or video access to him from 5 pm to 7 pm every Saturday.

"On the mother's visit to India, she shall have further right of visitation on every Sunday from 1 pm to 5 pm at a place of mutual choice decided by the parties," it said.

The bench further directed that the boy's maternal grandparents shall also have visitation rights from 1 pm to 5 pm every Sunday at a place of mutual choice decided by the parties.

Passing a slew of directions, the bench said the father shall not take his son outside the jurisdiction of India without the leave of the jurisdictional high court.

"The Juvenile Justice Board or the magistrate (juvenile justice) at the place where Master K would stay with his father in the future shall oversee and monitor the physical and psychological well-being of Master K through the Child Welfare Committee or any social welfare officer available within the district," it said.

culpable homicide not amounting to murder and other offences.

Ramesh hits back at Env Ministry over its rebuttal of his charges on Dhirauli coal mine project

NEW DELHI, SEPT 17

Congress leader Jairam Ramesh on Wednesday reiterated his charges of "blatant irregularities" in the approval process for Adani Group's Dhirauli coal mining project and cited a 2023 reply in the Lok Sabha by the Coal Ministry to claim that the project falls in an area protected under the Fifth Schedule of the Constitution.

Ramesh alleged that the Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change's rebuttal of his statements earlier, stating that the mining land did not fall in the area protected under the Fifth Schedule of the Constitution, was "false".

There was no immediate reaction from the Environment Ministry or the Adani Group on his allegations. In a rebuttal to Ramesh's allegations last week, the Environment Ministry had said, "Both Stage-I and Stage-II approvals have been duly granted by the Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change. Allegations with regard to violations of constitutional protections are factually incorrect and misleading." "I had raised the issue of the blatant irregularities in the approval process for Modani's Dhirauli coal mining project on September 12th. The Union Ministry of Environment, Forests and Climate Change (MOEF&CC) responded almost immediately claiming that — the mining land did not fall in the area protected under the Fifth Schedule of the Constitution; the required legal process under the Forest Right Act, 2006 had been duly completed," Ramesh said on X on Wednesday.

The first claim is false. On August 9, 2023, the then Union Minister of Coal answered clearly and categorically in the Lok Sabha that the Dhirauli coal mining project actually fell in an area protected under the Fifth Schedule of the Constitution," he said and shared the screenshot of the ministry's reply. As far as the second claim is concerned, the Forest Rights Act, 2006 includes not just individual forest rights but also community forest resource rights (CFR) and habitat rights of particularly vulnerable tribal groups (PVTGs), Ramesh said.

The Dhirauli coal mine involves the diversion of about 3,500 acres of forest land across five villages, with at least three other villages adjacent to these forests likely to be dependent on them, he pointed out.

All the three types of tribal rights in these eight villages have to be settled first, Ramesh argued.

"On March 31, 2022, the District Collector had certified that the complete process for identification and settlement of rights under the Forest Rights Act, 2006, had been carried out and that the rights of the particularly vulnerable tribal groups had been safeguarded. But by the Madhya Pradesh's government's own information, no community rights or habitat rights in the entire district of Singrauli, in which these eight villages are located, have been recognised till now," the Congress leader said. Last Friday, Ramesh had alleged that the Adani Group has begun cutting trees on government and forest land for its coal mine project in Madhya Pradesh's Dhirauli in 'blatant violation' of the Forest Rights Act. The state government, however, had rejected the allegation as baseless. The former environment minister had also claimed that the Modi government imposed this allotment.

Sanitation workers, along with the district administration and police personnel, take part in a cleanliness drive at Kedarnath Dham as part of the 'Swachhata Pakhwada' campaign, organised by Sulabh International Social Service Organisation, in Rudraprayag district, Uttarakhand.

E-auction of gifts given to PM begins; Ram Temple Model, Goddess Bhavani statue among 1,300 items

NEW DELHI, SEPT 17

More than 1,300 items gifted to Prime Minister Narendra Modi, including an exquisitely crafted statue of Goddess Bhavani, an Ayodhya Ram Temple model and sporting memorabilia from the 2024 Paralympic Games, have been put up for an e-auction that began here on Wednesday, officials said.

The start of the seventh edition of the online auction coincides with the birthday of Modi, who turned 75 on Wednesday. The e-auction will continue till October 2.

According to the PM Mementos website, the base price of the statue of Goddess Bhavani is Rs 1,03,95,000, while that of the model of the Ram temple is Rs 5.5 lakh.

Culture ministry officials on Tuesday said these two items, along with three pairs of shoes of Paralympic medalists, each pair with a base price of Rs 7.7 lakh, are in the top-five bracket in terms of the base price.

Other items which are part of the e-auction include an intricately-embroidered Pashmina shawl from Jammu and Kashmir, a Tanjore painting of Ram Durbar, a metallic Nataraj statue, a Rogan Art from Gujarat depicting the Tree of Life and a handwoven Naga shawl.

A special highlight of this edition is the sports memorabilia gifted by India's para-athletes who participated in the Paris Paralympics 2024. These tokens symbolise the para-athletes' resilience, excellence and indomitable spirit, the culture ministry said in a statement earlier.

The first edition of the e-auction was held in January 2019.

"Since then, thousands of unique gifts presented to Prime Minister Narendra Modi have been auctioned, raising more than Rs 50 crore in support of the Namami Gange project," the Culture Ministry said on Tuesday. Union Culture Minister Gajendra Singh on Tuesday told reporters that more than 1,300 gifts received by the prime minister will be auctioned online. The collection reflects the cultural diversity of India, ranging from traditional art, paintings, sculptures, handicrafts and tribal artefacts to ceremonial gifts of honour and respect, the ministry said. These items are currently on display at the National Gallery of Modern Art (NGMA).

As in previous years, all proceeds from the e-auction will go to the Namami Gange project, the government of India's flagship initiative for the rejuvenation, conservation and protection of the Ganga river and its ecosystem.

SC allows CBI's appeal, cancels bail granted to Chhota Rajan in 2001 murder case

NEW DELHI, SEPT 17

The Supreme Court on Wednesday cancelled the bail granted to gangster Chhota Rajan in the 2001 murder case of hotelier Jaya Shetty in Mumbai.

A bench of Justices Vikram Nath and Sandeep Khaita allowed the CBI's appeal challenging an October 23 last year order of the Bombay High Court which suspended the life sentence of Rajan and granted him bail in the case.

The apex court observed that Rajan remained absconding for 27 years and was convicted in four cases.

"Why suspension of sentence to such a man," the bench said. Rajan's counsel argued it was a case of no evidence.

He said out of the 71 cases, the CBI did not find any material against Rajan in 47 cases and the probe agency closed them.

Rajan's counsel said he was convicted in a separate murder case and was awarded life sentence.

Additional Solicitor General S V Raju, appearing for the CBI, said the high court had suspended the life sentence awarded to Rajan in the case.

"We will cancel the bail in this," the bench said.

When Rajan's counsel argued it was a case of "no evidence", the bench observed, "your name itself is big enough".

After his counsel said Rajan was acquitted in several cases, the bench said the acquittals were due to the reason that witnesses did not come forward.

The bench allowed the CBI's appeal challenging the High court order and cancelled his bail bond.

It noted Rajan was already in judicial custody and was serving sentence in another case.

In May 2024, a special court convicted Rajan in the hotelier's murder case and sentenced him to life imprisonment.

Rajan filed an appeal in the high court against the conviction.

He also sought that the sentence be suspended and he be granted bail in the interim.

Shetty, who owned the Golden Crown hotel at Gamdevi in central Mumbai, was shot dead by two alleged members of Rajan's gang on the hotel's first floor on May 4, 2001.

A probe suggested that Shetty had received extortion calls from Hemant Pujari, a member of the Chhota Rajan gang, and was killed because of his failure to pay the money.

Rajan is already serving life term for the murder of veteran crime reporter J Dey.

ED arrests ex-MUDA commissioner Dinesh Kumar

BENGALURU, SEP 17

The Enforcement Directorate (ED) has arrested ex-MUDA commissioner Dinesh Kumar under the provisions of the anti-money laundering law in a case related to allotment of alleged illegal sites, officials said on Wednesday.

He is expected to be produced before a designated special Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA) court in Bengaluru where the agency will seek for his custody, the officials said.

Kumar, linked to MUDA in connection with the MUDA illegal sites allocation "scam".

Kumar, as per the ED, during his tenure as MUDA commissioner indulged in "large-scale illegal allotment" of MUDA sites in lieu of "gratification and peculiarly benefits." Probe has found his "active" involvement in money laundering activities, ED sources said.

The ED is conducting a money laundering investigation into the MUDA allotment of land parcels case on the basis of a Karnataka Lokayukta Police FIR that had named Karnataka Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, his wife BM Parvathi, the CM's brother-in-law Mallikarjuna Swamy, Devaraju.

Exports to US falling due to high tariffs: GTRI

NEW DELHI, SEPT 17

India's exports to the US are falling as high tariffs imposed by the Trump administration have started eroding the price competitiveness of domestic goods in Washington, think tank GTRI said on Wednesday.

August shipments to the US plunged to USD 6.7 billion, down 16.3 per cent from July — the steepest monthly fall of 2025 — as US duties doubled to 50 per cent by month's end, it said.

In July, exports dipped 3.6 per cent to USD 8 billion over June. The month of June had also seen a decline of 5.7 per cent to USD 8.3 billion over May.

May 2025 was the last month of growth, as shipments to the US rose 4.8 per cent over April to USD 8.8 billion. In April, exports to the US stood at USD 8.4 billion.

"The slide in exports closely tracks the rapid escalation of tariffs," Global Trade Research Initiative (GTRI) Founder Ajay Srivastava said.

Until April 4, Indian goods entered the US at normal MFN (most favoured nation) rates. From April 5, Washington imposed a universal 10 per cent tariff, which initially failed to dent trade flows as importers rushed to front-load purchases — explaining May's export rise, he said.

By June, however, the sustained 10 per cent duty and growing talk of country-specific measures began eroding India's price competitiveness", Srivastava said, adding orders shifted to alternative suppliers, pulling exports down by nearly 6 per cent.

"The decline deepened in July under the same tariff regime," he said.

The real blow came in August when the tariffs shot up to 25 per cent on August 7, and then doubled to 50 per cent on August 27, for most products, he said.

"This left little room for exporters to adjust, resulting in the sharpest month-on-month contraction yet. September is expected to show an even steeper fall, as it will be the first month fully exposed to the 50 per cent rate," he said.

He also said that roughly one-third of India's exports, including pharmaceuticals and smartphones to the US are tariff-exempt, which means the effective hit on tariff-exposed goods is far deeper than headline figures suggest.

Labour-intensive sectors like apparel, gems and jewellery, leather, shrimp, and carpets are under severe stress because the US accounts for 30-60 per cent or more of their global exports, he said.

According to GTRI estimates, if the 50 per cent tariffs remain through the end of FY 2026, India could lose USD 30-35 billion in US exports — a major blow considering the US accounts for nearly 20 per cent of India's goods exports.

He suggested that the government should extend support measures to exporters.

"Without quick relief, the prolonged tariff wall could lead to job losses and weaken its overall trade performance heading into 2026," he said.

GST reforms to inject Rs 2 lakh crore into economy, says Nirmala Sitharaman

VISAKHAPATNAM, SEPT 17

Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Wednesday said the next generation GST reforms will infuse Rs 2 lakh crore into the economy, leaving people with more cash in hand that otherwise would have gone as taxes.

Addressing the Outreach and Interaction Program on Next Gen GST Reforms, she also said, following the tax reforms, 99 per cent of goods under the 12 per cent GST slab have moved to five per cent. The rejig has resulted in 90 per cent items under 28 per cent tax slab slipping into the 18 per cent bracket.

She said several companies, including some FMCG giants, are voluntarily coming forward to give rate cuts and pass on the benefit to consumers even before September 22, the implementation date for the new GST regime.

"With this new gen tax regime, with only two slabs (5 per cent and 18 per cent), Rs 2 lakh crore is injected into the economy. People will have cash in hand," she said.

She said before undertaking the rate rejig, the NDA government kept five filters—reduction of rate for poor and middle class, fulfilling aspirations of middle class, benefiting farmers community, pro-MSME and sectors that are useful for the country in creating jobs and export potential.

The minister highlighted that the GST revenues grew to Rs 22.08 lakh crore in 2025 from Rs 7.19 lakh crore in 2018 (FY 2017-18).

According to Sitharaman, the taxpayer's number grew to 1.51 crore from the earlier 65 lakh.

Sitharaman said the GST Council is a prime example of cooperative federalism, noting it is the only constitutional body created since independence.

Flaying the previous UPA regime, she described the earlier tax structures as "tax terrorism" and said a lot of exercise went into the implementation of GST as part of one-time settlement.

The UPA government went for 10 years. You could not come with GST. You could not convince the states about GST. I could have given a harsh political reply. But not today," she said.

The restricted GST rate slabs will come into effect from September 22. The GST council has reduced rate slabs from four (5, 12, 18 and 28) to just two (5 and 18 per cent).

SBI divests 13.18 pc stake in Yes Bank to Sumitomo Mitsui Banking Corp for Rs 8,889 cr

NEW DELHI, SEPT 17

The country's largest lender State Bank of India on Wednesday announced the completion of the divestment of about 13.18 per cent stake in Yes Bank to Sumitomo Mitsui Banking Corporation of Japan for Rs 8,888.97 crore.

State Bank of India (SBI) has received Rs 8,888.97 crore from the acquirer Sumitomo Mitsui Banking Corporation (SMBC), a Japanese multinational financial services company belonging to the Sumitomo Mitsui Financial Group (SMFG), the bank said in a regulatory filing.

SMFG is among the leading foreign banks in India. It is the second-largest Banking Group in Japan, with total assets of about USD 2 trillion.

SBI became the largest shareholder of Yes Bank in March 2020 under its Reconstruction Scheme 2020, as notified by the central government, the PSU bank said in a statement.

Subsequently, SBI had also acquired additional shares as part of a follow-on public offer by Yes Bank in July 2020.

Post the aforesaid divestment, SBI will continue to remain a shareholder in Yes Bank with a holding of 10.8 per cent, it said.

The partial stake sale by SBI and other shareholder banks in

Yes Bank to SMBC represents the largest cross-border investment in the Indian banking sector, it added. The transaction has received the necessary regulatory and statutory approvals, including from the Reserve Bank of India and the Competition Commission of India. SBI Chairman CS Setty said, "Yes Bank restructuring plan by the RBI in 2020 was an innovative, first-of-its-kind public sector-private sector partnership that was fully supported and facilitated by the Government of India. We are incredibly proud of the journey we have shared with Yes Bank in supporting their transformation since we came on board as the major shareholder in 2020".

This is perhaps the best example of protecting the customer interests of a large bank by collaborative efforts of SBI and other banks under the guidance of the government and RBI, he noted.

"We are excited to welcome SMBC, a marquee financial institution, as a strategic partner through the largest cross-border transaction in India's banking sector. Their global expertise will be a great complement to Yes Bank's ongoing progress and future ambitions," he said.

SBI and the other selling shareholder banks were advised by SBI Capital Markets Limited as their financial adviser.

MUMBAI, SEPT 17

The rupee appreciated 25 paise to close at 87.84 (provisional) against US dollar on Wednesday, tracking a positive trend in domestic equities and supported by optimism over US-India trade negotiations.

Forex traders said the Indian rupee strengthened for the fourth consecutive session on Wednesday and rose to the highest level in two and a half weeks on broad weakness of the American currency amid hopes of a US Fed rate cut.

They said investors are closely following the Federal Reserve's policy decision as dollar softness globally is triggering rupee's strength.

The market is expecting a 25-bps rate cut, and investors will watch out for the Fed chair's speech for further guidance.

At the interbank foreign exchange market, the rupee opened at 87.84, then touched an intraday low of 87.71 and a high of 87.86 against the greenback. The domestic unit closed at 87.84 (provisional), registering a gain of 25 paise over its previous close.

On Tuesday, the rupee appreciated 7 paise to close at 88.09 against the US dollar.

"We expect the rupee to strengthen further amid sustained weakness in the US dollar ahead of the FOMC meeting decision. Markets expect a 25-bps rate cut," said Anuj Choudhary, Research Analyst, currency and commodities, Mirae Asset ShareKhan.

"Any front loading of dovish commentary may lead to fresh decline in the US dollar and may lead to further improvement in the global risk sentiments," Choudhary added.

Meanwhile, the dollar index, which gauges the greenback's strength against a basket of six currencies, rose 0.16 per cent to 96.78.

Brent crude, the global oil benchmark, was trading 0.66 per cent lower at USD 68.02 per barrel in futures trade.

The meeting was attended by Principal Secretary, Finance; Commissioner, Social Welfare Department; Managing Director, J&K Bank; Director General, Resources; Director General, Planning; Director General, Budget, besides all Deputy Commissioners who participated through video conferencing.

During the meeting, the Chief Secretary took stock of key flagship initiatives including Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana (PMJDY), Pradhan Mantri Suraksha Bima Yojana (PMSBY), Pradhan Mantri Jeevan Jyoti Bima Yojana (PMJJBY), Atal Pension Yojana (APY), Building and Other Construction Workers (BOCW) Welfare Schemes, Ladli Beti, Marriage Assistance, Old Age Pension, Widow/Divorce Pension, and Disability Pension schemes.

The Chief Secretary underscored the importance of assessing the ground-level impact of these schemes, directing the concerned departments and J&K Bank to give renewed impetus for their saturation across all districts. He stressed the need to undertake a detailed study of unique bank accounts district-wise to gauge financial penetration vis-à-vis the local population and ensure that eligible beneficiaries are comprehensively identified and covered under the available social security schemes.

The meeting was apprised of significant achievements made in recent years under both financial inclusion and welfare initiatives. It was given out that under the PMJDY, nearly 1.9 lakh new accounts have been added since March 2025, taking the total to 23.33 lakh active accounts. A rationalisation exercise was also undertaken to eliminate duplicate accounts and convert zero-balance accounts into savings accounts, the meeting was informed.

Almost every panchayat suffered damage water pipelines, electricity poles uprooted: Pawan Khajuria Udhampur, Sept 17: Senior leader Pawan Khajuria, while addressing a press conference at the Saliyan Talab office in Udhampur, said that the heavy rainfall and landslides that began on August 26 have still not stopped. Every day, images of destruction are emerging from different areas. No one has remained unaffected by this disaster. Almost every panchayat has suffered damage—water pipelines are in terrible condition, electricity poles have been uprooted, and several transformers have sunk into the ground. Roads have also been washed away at many places. The district administration is doing everything it can to deal with this severe disaster and to reach the affected people. Whether it's a junior employee or a senior officer, everyone is trying to give their 100%. In Udhampur district, about 70 to 80 percent of the population lives in villages, many of which are in remote areas. Yet, the district administration has issued necessary guidelines to reach those areas as well. In addition, several NGOs have also extended help by distributing relief materials in the villages. We, too, along with our colleagues, have visited remote areas to meet the affected families, understand their pain, and even in areas where roads were blocked due to landslides and vehicles couldn't go, we reached on foot and provided some relief materials. While everyone is trying to help in their own way during this time, our MLA is busy playing politics even amidst this disaster. He is telling people that they don't need to go to the patwari, police station, or any government office—that compensation will be delivered to their homes while they sit at home. I don't understand why he fails to realize that this is a time for service, not politics. Today, we need to rise above politics and work for the service of the people. I would like to ask—is it really possible for the administration to deliver relief materials and government aid to every home? At this rate, it would take months. He further said that, according to the data received through our workers, around 1,500 houses (both kuchha and puuca) have been completely destroyed, leaving thousands homeless. About 10,000, more houses have been partially damaged, but they too should be included in the list of fully damaged houses, because once a house develops cracks, it becomes uninhabitable and creates a constant sense of fear. People are forced to live in tents. Hundreds of cows, buffaloes, and other animals have also been rendered homeless, making it difficult for their owners to care for them.

Additionally, thousands of kanals of local residents' land have become almost barren due to landslides, and crops on that land have been completely destroyed. He also mentioned that due to road closures and suspension of transport to tourist spots, many transporters and business owners are finding it hard to run their households. We request the administration to also provide them with some form of relief so that they can continue their livelihoods smoothly. Present on the occasion were senior leader Sardar Palwinder Singh, Naib Sarpanch Vijay Kumar, Mohammad Anwar, Mohinder Kumar, Nateshwar Vaid, Rinku, Shyam Lal, Rohit Sarmal, and Arun Sethi.
